A CROOK-ED RECORD.-Many of our city readers will remember SAMUEL J. would follow, he said:

"Let the mark of Cain be fixed on the man who advocates this measure, and when, two years hence, Stephen A. Douglas shall precent himself as a candidate for the Presidency', let this meeting remember that the mark of Nebraska is fixed on his brow."

Now, we would ask wherein Stephen A.

Donglas is any different from what he was when he was so rehemently and so justly denout oed as he was by the above speaker and others at the meeting above referred to?

The fact is, by the passage of that bill the whole question of slavery was opened, and out of it arose the agitation that has since existed, and for all this Douglas is responsible. Will Sam tell us whether he or Dongside. Now, we would ask wherein Stephen A. aible. Will Sam tell us whether he or Donglas has changed?

The girl stared at him for a mo-ment or two in sheer bewilderment; at last it dawned on her what he meant, and for what he took her, and looking up, with simple amazement, in his face, she exclaimed: "Lord bless you sir, I sin't a social evil! ## Detroit and Bilwankee.

The recent census shows with what even pace the cities of Detroit and Milwaukee have advanced in population, since 1850. The following table shows the comparison:

Detroit increased with the greater rapidity from '50 to '54, and Milwaukee from '55 to '60; but for the whole period of ten years the gain of the two cities in population has been almost exactly the same.

AT THE NINTH WARD DEMOCRATIC TETE TETE held on Saturday night, S. PARK Coon addressed the gathering. One particular point which he made is worthy of repetition. Casting his eyes over the crowdwhich might have been accompanied in a

MILWAUKEE, IUESDA, MORNING, SEPTEMBER 4, 1860. The Star Scen in the Daytime. Numbers of our citizens have for several lay's been contemplating the unusual spec- was passing up West Water street last even-

tacle of a "bright particular star," visible ing between six and seven o'clock, he saw a in the heavens at noonday, and while an ur- little basket in the road, not far from the clouded aun dazzled the eyes with its in- walk, near Oneida street bridge. Thinking tensest lustre. From observations from it belonged to some of the children in that time to time heard, it is evident that very few have ever before had their attention over it, he picked it up with the intention of called to such an occurrence, and yet an opportnuity for witnessing the same sight ocours at regular intervals of about nineteen months. The star thus conspicuous at noonday is the planet Venus; which, being nearer than rather unceremoniously, when the cover flew the Earth to the Sun, is necessarily seen in a direction approximately towards the Sun. For which reason it can never be seen at midnight, as all the other Planets may, except Mercury; and accompanying the Sun, as it were, it is seen either immediately before sunrise, when it is called the Morning Star, or immediately after sunset, when it is known as the Evening Star.

This Planet is of about the same size as the Earth, and is 68,000,000 miles from the San; while the Earth is 95,000,000, or 27,-000,000 miles farther from the Sun than Venus. As the revolutions of the two Planets round the Sun are accomplished in different periods of time, it follows that they are not always equally near each other. For while they may attain a contiguity of 27,000,000 miles at their inferior conjunction, at their superior conjunction-or when they are at opposite directions from the Sun-they are about 163,000,000 miles, or the same as their respective distances from the Sun, apart.

In the accomplishment of these revolutions, Venus, as seen from the earth, appears to move in the heavens from east to west of the sun, and from west to east again, to a distance of about forty-seven degrees from the sun each way, and never more; passing very across the sun's disk, when what is called a transit takes place, an occurrence of great importance to astronomers.

When this planet in thus passing is near the sun, its light is lost in the splendor of interior conjunction-or departing from it as at the present moment-and while so far from the sun as not to be collesed by it's rays, it may be seen by the naked eye in a clear day, either to the north-east or the north-west of the sun. On being examined through a good telescope, it now presents the appearance of a moon in its quarter, being crescent shaped.

Venus is the most brilliant and -conspicuous of all the heavenly bodies, except the sun aud moon, and besides those, it is the only one which will cast a shadow by means peaceable Germans as they passed down the of its great light. This experiment may be tried by any one in the absence of the moon, in a clear evening or morning, when Venus is the morning star. The shadow is best seen when upon a white ground, as upon a blank sheet of paper, and when the light with the missiles. After this demonstration from the planet is admitted through an open

J. B. Yours. Wis. BURGLARIES.—The store of J. L. DAVIS. on East Water street, was entered by means of the scattle on Sunday night and several valuable packages of goods stolen. The discovery was made yesterday morning. Mr. WM. HILLER and John Schulz, had both been arrested the night previous on anspicion of having stolen a couple of bundles which they were carrying through the Fitth Ward. He immediately identified the goods and found they were worth about $400.

It was ascertained that the robbers had procured an entrance into the building by means of the trap in the roof. Having climbed up on the new building now being erected by Mr. WELLS, and got from thence into the store of Mr. DAVIS.

Quite a pile of goods were found on the way ready to be taken away, and the countup in the corners and variously disposed, so ers presented an appearance not at all characteristic of the system and order which prevails in this establishment. The men have both been in Waupun beore, and will doubtless return.

On the same evening the house of Mrs Welter on Division street was entered, and a large quantity of clothing taken, while the family were at church. Burgiaries are becoming altogether too ommon in this community.

A NEST OF EAGLES FOUND,-As E. W. CARPENTER, a young Attorney of this city.

vicinity, and fearing the teams might run setting it down on the walk, so the children or whoever it should belong to might find it. On lifting it, he found it contained no litlle weight, and supposing it was full of little stones or broken crockery, he set it down off, revealing a variety of little trinkets, the beauty of which attracted his attention. On examining the contents of the basket more minutely, he discovered a beautiful pearl sheel among the rest of the curiosities, and on lifting it up, found attached to it a buckskin bag, which contained nearly the entire weight of the basket. On opening the shell, to his surprise there was re-venled a nest of American Eagles, Taking a secluded seat, he leisurely proceeded to count the yellow boys, and found just seven hundred and eleven of them, amounting to seven thousand one hundre and ten dollars.

Not desiring the care of so many valuable birds that did not belong to him, he asked Mr. ALBERT VETTER, who keeps a grocery store on the corner, and several others in that vicinity, if they knew who the basket belonged to? On being answered in the negative, he informed them that it contained some enricaties of value, which the owner could have by describing the contents. He jett word that he would shortly return, and then he might be found at his office, in case an owner should come. Soon he came back with the basket in his hand, and discovered that no little commotion had been aroused in near the body of the sun, and sometimes his absence. Ro somer had he have in sight, than the boys did shout, "there comes the gentleman who has found your

> Mr. CARPENTER was the besieged by family of emigrants, whose actions plainly in dicated that they had met with no little loss for their lamentations were made known to all around. The contents of the basket were soon described and restored to the owners, who received it with wild manifestations of delight. To see the entire family-numbering eight in all; large and small-showering their thanks, through their tears of joy, upon Mr. CABPENTER, in their rough and sincere way, was indeed an affecting sight, that moved more than one of he bystanders to tears.

The family are Germans who have just prived from Germany, and are on their way to Stevenstown, La Crosse county. JACOB VAN STRINER is the name of the father of the family. It appears that the family had passed up the street a few moments before in company with a wagon that contained their baggage. The load required some fixing; so the mother of the family, who had the basket, set it down to assist, and supposing her husband took it up (who generally had charge of it, and, who had at the time a basket in his hands similar to it,) she thought no more of it until they had been gone some time. The money had been carried in a belt, for that purpose. It is very fortunate for them that their treasures happened to fall into a person's hands who did not desire the care of such a numerous flock of valuable hirds. We fear there are some persons who would not shrink from such a responsibility, especially in these hard times. It is needless to say that the ipse dizit of the Supreme Court carries rather more weight with it than the

It fasely charges HARNIBAL HAMLIN with " always opposing Homestead bills." The record shows that Mr. HANGIN voted steadily for the Homestead Bill of Mr. Guow, last session, and also sustained the Compremise Bill of the Conference Committes, when returned to the Senate with a Demveratic veto. In these votes Mr. HANLIN faithfully reflected the sentiments of the Rx-PUBLICAN PARTY. That is the only party whose platform includes the great measure of FREE HOMESTEADS for FREE LABOR. The Douglas K. N. Conlition. "The SENTINEL is not in the least troubled about the Douglas and Know Nothing "fusion" in New York." So says the SENTINEL, and we for once, gave it credit for teiling the truth. It, of course, is not troubled about any such fusion as that, for the simple reason, that so such fusion has been formed. The Know Kothing party no longer exists. News.

The News deceives its readers. The Know Nothing Party "still lives." They met in State Council, at Schenectady, New York, last week, to the number of two, or three hundred, and after a sharp contest adopted the follow resolution:

Yet the News which is perfectly aware of these facts, coolly tells its readers that "the Know-Nothing party no longer exists !? It would not do A Mr. HARGEAVE, of this place, a very of sourse, to admit the fact of the Dougras peaceable, quiet and well-informed citizen, and Knew Nothing coalition and hence the fabrication which we have exposed.

Another Reply to Marshal Rogers. Ripon, Wis., Arg. 30th, 1860. To the Editor of the Sentine

Sin: -An article appeared in the News of the 28th inst., over the signature of one Anson Rockes, a Deputy U. S. Marshal, residing in Janesville, in this State, and purpretty generally talked of on the street—and porting to be an exposure of "Boots, Dan-IELS and their Ripon confederates," and the very ungentlemanly treatment he received at the hands of the Ripon people during his late tour to this place. And as every person. living in Ripon and vicinity, who has read the article referred to, unhesitatingly prononness is the most wanton and deliberate libel that human ingenuity could invent, it is but just and proper, that some one should reply to this flagrant violation of common thought that was wholly inadequate to the decency, and unjust reproach upon the citizens of Ripon. The fact that this extraordinary man, Rooms, did visit our town re cently, is too true, and had he not favored us with his presence at all, no one here would have felt in the least aggrieved. And him a vote of thanks for his absence; as I understand they were all frightened to such

During all this time the presence of Roc-EBS was not known. There were several on the look out for him, but he kept himself in some secret corner, and could not be found. Had he shown himself on the street, on the our chickens would have undoubtedly passed evening in question, he would most certainly have received the coating of "tar and feath. ers " he so justly merited. JOHN C. HERNAN Went to New Haven to exhibit his muscle and receive an ovation.-The inhospitable men of Connecticut caused his arrest, hoping to hide his light under a bushel. Bail was at once procured, however, and the performance went on. The next morning a crowd assembled at the Police Court to hear the cause of Connecticut agt. The Champion of the World. Everybody including the original complainant, appeared for the plaintiff, and the case, being quite one-sided, was upset immediately.

This is a very simple sum in mental arithmetic, by which it can readily be seen that it would require more than four years. This is probably the principal objection the supporters of Breckinridge have to his election. They want the job done at once, and they see he would not be likely to make even a successful besinning.

WE find the following clever verses, embodying irlous sentiment, in the Racine Journal: "DON'T ? ROUBLE TO BURY ME DEEP. BY LEWIN BURGES.

Don't bury me doep for I would not reat long While there's work in this world to be done, Every atom of dust should be living again, Warmed to life by the rays of the sun. I feel that I cannot half finish the work That I fain would live on to complete So let every atom live quickly again, "Don't trouble to bury me deep,"

I have fed on good things for full-fifty-three years, And this waroling I han would repeat, So that I may feed better the flowers and the worms; "Don't trouble to bury meldeep." If the doctors should need me to lecture upon, Where mankind can a benefit wonp, To save needless labor in digging me up, 'Don't trouble to bury me deep;"

Some people are buried before they are dead, Is this not a warning complete? For how can they ever escape on be heard When buried so terribly deep? In life let us do what we wish to be done, And this question let each one repeat, If vife is worth having, then what is the use Of burying people so deep?

Tho' the spirit survive the poor body's decay, Can the spirit a benefit reap, By casing the body in fron or lead And entombing it ever so deep?

least, of that love which knows no alternative but death!

A month had passed; and the two fair englarers of three aspiring youths still tarried at my father's house. I felt my doom, as in were, under the relentless hand of some in which nower gradualty, but surely closing. were, under the relentless hand of some in visible power, gradually, but surely, closing upon me. Tom and Adela were companion in the merning walk and the afternoon drive Webster and Jane were similarly associated, as I ERW, and believed was the hearstand consequence of Tom's devotion to the charming Adela. Half a doz-n times, perhaps. Tom had confided in me the special charge of bia beloved, assured that she was safe from his dreaded rival while in my hands. And Webster, as if conscious of the trust thus devolved upon me, never intruded upon us, or seemed disposed to abate his attentions to Jaue, although I felt that he was suffering an intense privation. For ma—ah! thos. Jare, although I felt that he was suffering an intense privation. For ma-ah.! thoswere seasons of paradisical delight: Yet I discovered that Adela was less free and familiar with me than with Tom. At times she even seemed embarrassed; and again, there was a tend-roess in her tone that thrilled my spirit with an agony of joy. We could readily find congenial themes of conversation, and I soon feit that sie was well informed upon the most interesting subjects. Easily rising above common-placeremark, we engaged each other in pleasant discussion of the literary world; and she glided amidst the beauties and graces of letdiscussion of the literary world; and she glided amidst the beauties and graces of letters and art with the ease and familiarity of a Flora in a conservatory of the choicest flowers. Upon one theme she was always reserved, and that was, my praises of my brother Tom. She would calmly assent to some general appreciation of him, and then adroitly change the subject. And I—oh! the guilt that was in my heart—would as adroitly thrust him before us, I verily believe only to test the spirit with which she put him aside. Alas! it wrung my heart with

TELEGRAPH!

REPORTED BY THE N. Y. ASSOCIATED PRESE FOR THE DAILY SENTINEL.

OTTAWA, C. W., Sept. 3-3 P. M.
On returning to his residence, the Prince held a lavee, and large numbers of gentlemen presented, but no addresses were made. The Prince then lunched with the legislators. The Royal party afterwards rode to Chandiere Falls and the Suspension Bridge, where they dismounted, got on a orib and went down a timber silde. Thousands of people watched them descend, who cheered as they shot past. The sceme was rather exciting. The Royal crib got down safe and the party were taken off in cances to an island in the center of the Bay, near which the cance races were held. The river was covered with small boats, and presented a brautiful appearance. The Prince took great interest in the proceedings, applanding the victors. He returned to the city at 7 o'clock, in a barge especially prepared, and rowed by Tae Prince at Ottawa in a barge especially prepared, and rowed by six gentlemen. He was much pleased with the events of the day.

> CRICAGO MONEY MARKET.—The Press & Tribune of this morning has the following:
> The demand for Eastern Exchange to day was less urgent, and the market decidedly weaker. In the early part of the day the various banking houses were paying $\foat{1}$ where the continuity of the early part of the day the various banking at $\foat{1}$ each; but in the afternoon the market was much hearter, and not more than $\foat{1}$ go ant, could be obtained for good castern bills. Currency is in fair supply, but the demand is more urgent on account of the heavy receipts of produce. CRICAGO MONEY MARKET. - The Press & Tribund of

St. Louis Money Manker .- The Missouri Democrat f Saturday says:

of Saturday says:

The offeringe, except of a local character, are not large, but the local line of the banks is pretty well occupied; one bank di counted some $20,000 of this kind of paper to day—of coursa at 8 % cent. The calis upon the banks are pretty heavy.or a different class of borrowers; and the 15,000 % cent, per month paper is quite abundant. Even the variety seeklog money at $26.5 % cent a month, is plentiful, as usual. The banks are quite inclined, however, to put the rate of interest as low as possible, to the manufacturer and merchant, at least to the extent of three cights of their capital. merchant, at least to the extent of three-eights of their capital.

The demand for exchange was light to-day, but there is not likely to be any general decline in rates shorthy; certainly not until after the payments of the 4th.— Sight on the East is held at $2 premium, but dealers will not pay over $2 cent, prem. On New Orleans the nominal rate is $2 point, prem., but some sales are at $3. There is evidently a disposition on the part of the Banks to put down the rate of Eastern Exchange when their balances will enable them to do so; very large amounts of money have gone from this vicinity to the east, and it is to be hoped that our indibitudess has been to a great extent paid. By advertisement of W. H. Barksdale & Do., in this morning? Democrat, it will be perceived that institution has reduced its drawing rate of eastern exchange to $5 per cent, prevo. We hope others may feel inclined and enabled to do likewise.

date, Lucy Raab and Heligoland to Buffalo at 15c, Comparative Prices of Wheat at Milwau-kee and thicago. kee and thicago.

In former years Chicago made occasional afforts to keep up to the Milwaukee market in prices of the better qualities of Spring wheat, in order to keep Milwaukee from taking the trade from the country Southwest of here but this season the dealurs of that city appear to have abandoned that idea as a honeless undertaking, only paying the prices that the standard quality of their SPIRITS-Highwines 20%@21c. wheat would justify, and consequently there is a post whent as has been raised in Northern Illinois this season at Officago, when it can be sent to Milwaukes for the same or nearly the same expense. The result is that the current of trade from the Southwest has turn ed strongly, and we trust permanently in this direction, and the Chicago and Milwaukee Railroad is now carrying from twenty to thirty thousand bushels of wheat daily to our market, and the Galena and Chl-cago Railroad cutof from Belvidere to Janesville, built with a view of draining that section towards Chicago, and tapping the Southern branch of the Milwaukee and Mississippi Railroad, has become one of the tributaries to our city. This is perfectly natural, country West and Northwest, and at at least 150 miles Southwest of us. The following comparative statement

It will be seen from the above that the smallest difference during the week between prices of No.1 Spring wheat in the two markets was two cents, and the greatest pine cents, the average difference for the week in favor of our market being about five cents &

WHEAT GOING TO MILWAUKER .- The Janesville Gazette of Thursday says: "Yesterday there was loaded from the freight deput of the Milwankee and Missiseippi Railroad, in this city, twenty cars with wheat for Milwaukee. Nineteen car loads of wheat was also received from Beloit and Freeport, going to Milwauker, which market seems, so far since the harvest, to be the favorite one among our grain dealers." We noticed in passing the Milwankee and Mississin.

pl depot yesterday, a great many cars, labeled "G. 4 C. U. R. R.," loade i with wheat from Freeport, Beloit, and other places in the Southwestern portion of this State and Northern Illinois, and we learn that quite a large train arrives every morning from that section by the same route. This shows the preference the cople of the Southwest have for Milwaukee over Chicago as a wheat market, and is another evidence of the advantage our city would reap from the completion of the Beloit and Milwankee Railroad. The great feature in the general markets to-day was the excitement in wheat and flour, caused by foreign news per Africa, through which we have Liverpool dutes to August 19th. Richardson, Spence & Co., and other houses, reported an advance in flour of 6d to is; also a decided improvement in wheat. This advance seems to have been established under the influence of unflavorable weather. The New York market became weated, and prices advanced there 15 to 25c per 15t; closing at 5,000 to 8,000 ties four were picked up before the news was generally known, at an advance of 565,000 end 8,000 ties four were picked up before the one weaterday's quotations. When the reports were read on 'Unange, holders quickly withdraw, or put up prives to a point that was equivalent to a withdrawal. These who did not bay on the spar of the moment, concluded to let things get cool before operating, and after 'Change, or indeed after the news from New York was read, very little transpired. The business of the day fonced up about 10,000 bols, including 1,000 bbls superfine for October at $5, and 2,000 bbls for this same at $5, 10. The sales on the spot were at $6,500, 70. The advance established was 1500 per bbl, and the advance asked 28,500 on resterday's prices. The loy of 1,000 bbls not have was read, very little transpired. The business of the day fonced up about though the spot were at $6,500, 70. The salvance established was 1500 per bbl, and the advance then, within three days, may be called 406. 500 per bbl. The effect of this foreign news will be to check receipts for the present. So much has been said about a heavy foreign demand, farmers and dealers will be git to anticipate still higher prices than are forwing the private from 25 to $25 per bbl. The quotation from Liveppool are from 25 to $25 per bbl. The quotation from Liveppool are from 25 to $25 per ball, and we may look for more or less individual and the seaboard to justify the pites th ast evening.

SOVEL HOUSE FOR GRAIN. The Galena and Chicago Union Railroad is now car rying wheat to this city from the Southwestern portlor of this State and Northern Illinois in competition with Schooner R delay Schooner A. Bradley, Miller Oswego, 10,600 bushels the Rache and Mississippi, sending quite a respectable train here every day ris the Milwaukee and Mississippi R.R., from Janesville. Grain shipped from Freer Enterprise, Gillmore, Budato, 13.50 lus port by this route has to make quite little circuit before reaching its destination, going Southeast 47 miles to Belvidere junction, thence Northwest about 80 miles to the Milwaukee and Mississippi Railroad a few miles Southwest of Jane sville. Thus the Galena and Chicago Road, finding it impossible to draw any when o Ohicago from points having any means of access to Milwaukee, enters the competition for carrying it to this city, and should the management of the Racine and Mississippi Road be controlled by the dictations o Racine, would draw an immense amount of traffic

In mentioning the application of certain parties representing $300,000 third mortgage bonds of the La

Orosse road, converted into stock of the M. & Minne sota R. R. under the sale of the road in 1839, to de-fend these stockholders against the foreclosure and sale under the second mortgage the Railroad Record "Affidavits were read, which show that in the opin "Affidavits were read, which show that in the Opli-ion of the Receiver now in possession of the road, and other well-informed parties, the value of the Eastern division is at least $1,000,000 over and above the in-cumbrances upon it, and that it can undestidely this year, and from this time forward, very cashy pay the interest on this valuation. This solid fact, taken in connection with the homeone business which must be done by the road this season, places it out of the verge of possibility for any safe under the second moving age to take place, as, long before such sale can be had, the road will have served and paid the interest, upon which the foreclosure proceedings have been based."

As the chief outlet for Northwestern Wisconsia, and the growing State of Minnesota, the Milwaukee & Min-

In his letter on the origin, condition and future prospects of the Great Western Railway, Ww. Laxa, Esq., after describing the manner in which the Directors of the latter "out-generaled" the Grand Trunk in the race to reach the West, thus speaks of the natural advantages of the Detroit and Milwaukee Ruilway and its great importance as a direct route to the great Northwest:

ous a future as any other Railroad in the North-west

Northwest:

The construction of the Sarnia-Branch, and the connection of the Great Western Company with the Detroit and Milwaukes Railway, have been decemed the most impollic acts of the Great Western of Canada Company; and until, by mixing with the freight agents at Chicago, I specialized the position it gave the Company for securing through freight, I was not prepared to allow the Dir. ctors credit for incurring so great an expense. pared to allow the Directors credit for incurring so great an expense...
With the Derroit and Milwaukee, the Great Western commands an independent avenue to the West, and across Lake Michigan is unquestionably the nearest, route to Milwaukee, a city which for western freight is second only to Chicago. Already the Detroit and Milwaukee supplies a considerable quantity of traffic to the Great Western Railway, and its through and local business also is rapidly improving, and at Grand Hapids there are valuable sait springs, owned by Boston near, which creat a considerable local and they ral business and Rapids there are valuable sain approach to men, which create a considerable local and throtomen, which create a considerable local and throtomic for freight and passengers.

The route across Lake Michigan saves and istance of 50 mites of railroad, and the cost of water-carriage and double handling is small in comparison with the same distance. Thus, the Gress has all for the same distance. Thus, the Gress and control of the same distance. and double handling is small in comparison with the charge by rail for the same distance. Thus, the Great Western has a great advantage in commanding the Detroit & Milwaukee route; and even if as an investment in that undertaking the Great Western should lose the entire sum of $250,000, toaned the Detroit & Milwaukee Company, they would still be the gainer, not only by the direct advantage it would afford in the through freight for warded over their line, but whe by the indirect benefit obtained in controlling that traffic, and preventing the possibility of it being used by any other railroad to the prejudice of the Great Western Comings.

The Detroit & Milwaukee, although at present in the ands of a Receiver, must, with all well-constructed restern roads, under good management, eventually secone a dividend paying line. KENOSHA AND ROCKFORD RAILROAD. EXROSHA AND ROCKFORD BAILROAD.

We learn from the President of this road, that if nothing unforeseen intervenes, the track will be laid to Genoa by the close of next week. Since the close of harvesting, there has been less difficulty in obtaining laborers, and the force now employed is competent to push the work forward with considerable rapidity.—
From present appearances, the road will be in a condition this fail to do a good business, in bringing grain to the Lake Shore and carrying lumber into the counter.

ry. Whatever distrust there may have been heretofore Whatever district there may have been heretofore, as to the probable completion of the road to Rockford, there appears no reason now to doubt it will, be done. Iron sufficient for the purpose has been purchased, and is now being delivered on the whar! In this city, and the transportation on the whole amount required, we are seared, has been paid. With these facts our readers can judge as well as we, whether the prospects for the finishing of the road are overestionated. The building of the road has been so often announced through the papers and other channels, that many people very naturally began to district the purpose and the ability of the company to build it. Indeed, such has been the aspect of suffers at times as to destroy all confidence of its ultimate completion. But the evidence that the road will be built now appears in such as tangible shape as to leave little or no room to doubt the Kenosha and Rockford Railroad will be constructed. For the progress which is now, being made with the work, much credit as due bir. Z. G. Simmons, the President of the road.—Kenosha Telegraph.
